In the Windham county session of superior court held in this city Thursday, the case of Mary Ellen Dawson against Arthur J. McIntyre was resumed. The case is a suit for damages of $2,500 which was begun at Wednesday's session. Evidence for the plaintiff was completed at noon. In the afternoon the evidence for the defense was heard. Miss Ingar Anderson of Portland, Me., who arrived in court after the defendant's case was opened, was the last witness for the plaintiff. Miss Anderson testified that she saw the McIntyre car on Main street in this city Saturday evening, Nov. 22, 1919, at 6:50 o'clock.

City Engineer R. E. Mitchell was the first witness for the defense. He displayed two maps which he had made from measurements taken of the Pleasant Valley road leading into the South Coventry road. He answered questions as to the distances between houses, elevations of the road and general layout of the land in the vicinity where the plaintiff was injured.

Fred E. Turner was called to the stand and he was shown a number of photographs which he identified. The photographs were accepted as exhibits in the case.

Arthur J. McIntyre, the defendant, testified that he had been a resident of Windham for thirty years. He lived with his father on a farm on the Pleasant Valley road. He said that he spent part of his time on the farm and the remainder in this city assisting his father with the business of which he took care.

He stated that on the date in question he owned a Ford commercial car and that it was fully equipped with lighting facilities. On the afternoon of November 22 he left Willimantic about 4:30 o'clock and went to his home in Pleasant Valley. He then returned to this city about 7 p. m. and on reaching the city he parked his car in front of the Willimantic Grain Company building. He stated that on the return trip to this city his sister, Mrs. Eva Crowell, was with him. She was driving the car and he was in the passenger seat. They were riding on the 8 p. m. train to Bridgeport. Willimantic testified that he struck any person or object on the trip to this city, and further said that he did not see Mrs. Dawson at any time on the trip and saw nobody at the place where the alleged accident took place. Although examined he stood firm in his testimony.

Mrs. Crowell corroborated the testimony given by her brother and stated that she was positive that the car in which they were riding struck no person or object. She testified that it was shortly after 7 p. m. when they left the McIntyre farm and that she got out at the postoffice and walked down to the Loomer Opera House block where she met her father. Later the defendant called for her and escorted her to the railroad station.

Others for the defense who testified were Leander J. McIntyre, the father, William M. Cummings, a rural free delivery carrier, Raymond Angier of the Leonard Brothers Garage, Inc., and John J. Arnold. Court recessed for luncheon at 1 p. m.

When the afternoon session was opened Charles A. Leander of Norwich was called to the stand. He testified that a few days after the accident he was met by Mrs. Flora Mott on Pleasant street and she asked him if he was on the McIntyre side in this case. He told her that he was not.

Mrs. Flora Mott was recalled to the stand and she testified that the Monday after the accident McIntyre came to her house and told her that he was alone on his return trip to this city on the night in question.

Arthur L. Stone was recalled and said that he spent the time after the accident from 6:45 to 8 p. m. on the road leading from the mail box in front of the Loomer home to the McIntyre place taking measurements of automobile tracks. He stated that only one car passed him during that time and that it was not the McIntyre.

The plaintiff's husband, Ernest Dawson, was also recalled and also John Mott. The men testified that they took measurements of the road.

The attorneys for the defense had the defendant take the stand and he repeated the testimony given by Mrs. Mott. Both sides then announced that they rested.

The attorneys did not argue the case but agreed to file briefs in one week with the court which was acceptable to Judge Kellogg.

Court was then adjourned until this (Friday) morning at 11 o'clock.

Robert Brown of Rockville will appear at the Andover town court Saturday morning charged with reckless driving. Mr. Brown was driving towards this city on the Andover state road Thursday afternoon and met a driver from Rockville who was driving a Ford coupe, attempted to pass the truck, on a small bridge about a mile the other side of Andover and near the Merritt J. home. When nearing the bridge he saw that it was going to be a tight place with the result that the truck and the Ford coupe crashed into each other and the truck swung around and crashed into a tree. No one was injured but both cars were damaged to some extent.

State Police Officer Fred T. Caron of the Stafford Springs barracks went to the scene and after investigating the accident notified Brown to appear in court.

Jacob Albert of New York city was fined $5 and costs, a total of $16.50 in police court Thursday morning on the charge of breach of the peace, to which he pleaded guilty. Albert was the drummer who was arrested Wednesday afternoon after he had used abusive language towards Mrs. Albert Coutin when she refused to buy goods from him. Albert called at the complainant's home with a dress suit case filled with wrens. At first she refused to talk to him but when he displayed a tablecloth at $2.50 she thought it a bargain. But she remarked to a neighbor, Mrs. Annie Cady, who was in her home at the time that she could not believe that it was linen. Albert overheard the remark and he pulled the cloth out of Mrs. Coutin's hands and swore at both women. He was then ordered out of the house and later placed under arrest.

The board of selectmen held a meeting in their room Wednesday morning to advise bids for working the roads in Westchester society. Selectman Julius W. Phelps was the lowest bidder and the contract was awarded to him. The road contractor in the first society was let to Mike Fedus. The roads are to be repaired subject to the approval of the selectmen.

Oliver Woodhouse lodge, K. of P., held a special meeting in Pythian hall Wednesday evening with a large attendance. Nineteen candidates were present and were initiated in the rank of page. The rank of master will be worked on at the meeting of 26 Tuesday. Next week it is expected that the celebrated second rank team of John Hay lodge of Hartford will be present and exemplify the work. The lodge has started in to make as large if not larger gain this year than last, when 48 new members were taken in. The slogan this year is: Every member get a member.

The common belief that it is difficult for a rich man to enter the kingdom of heaven prevents few men from trying to get rich.

More Milk Much Less Work with LOUDEN Detachable Water Bowls

Milk is 75% water. Plenty of water for the cow means a fuller milk pail for the owner. Louden Detachable Water Bowls give the cows a drink any hour of the day. They are made of galvanized iron and are light and easy to handle. They are a great help to the farmer.

Cows Water Themselves with Louden Bowls—that saves lots of work every single day in the year—and with farm help source or hard to get that's a mighty big item. But the Louden Bowl has many other features. It's a great help to the farmer. It's a great help to the farmer. It's a great help to the farmer.

JEWETT CITY
All roads led to the fair, and old time harvest supper at the Congregational vestry Thursday evening. From Jeddah and Aunt Sophia down, everybody was there to partake of the good things and to buy some of the various articles offered at the tables. Mrs. L. G. Buckingham and Mrs. A. Zeger were in charge of the rainbow special, which was true to form and color was arched over the table, with its mystic pots of gold, one at either end. Here for a small sum the inquisitive prospector was allowed to dig for gold.

A number of the good things were sold, and wonderful they were, some more than others, and light from New York. Suspended from the crescent was a marvelous phallion bird with a big red body and gorgeous tail. Mrs. B. D. Hallon and Miss Isabel Marshall assisted by L. G. Buckingham, conducted the village post office. Here for a few pennies the visitor could get a letter in a box just suited to the case. Many had the color of a real, honest to goodness love letter, they were well worth the price and then some. Mrs. Carle Munn and Mrs. Constance Munn were in charge of the candy department, and did a rushing trade with their first class goods.

The memory table under the supervision of Mrs. C. D. Wolf, Mrs. T. B. Keen, Mrs. B. D. Hallon and Miss M. Adelaide Burdick. In this department were offered for sale the kerchiefs, little baskets and other articles, sent by some one whose thoughts were there, accompanying a wish for success.

Second to no other attraction was Madame Philmore, she read the palms, and told for a small sum the tales of the future. Many were impressed, and when told that it was none other than Mrs. Donna Dallon, the thought that there was some work in the forecasting was abandoned.

The fancy table in charge of Mrs. John Whalley, Mrs. F. S. Leonard and Mrs. Norman Parkhurst, supplied all the wants of their many customers. Many bought freely of the handsome novelties they offered for sale. The household table, conducted by Mrs. Walter Richardson, Mrs. John Whalley and Mrs. Norman Parkhurst, was a success.

The supper was ably managed by Mrs. F. E. Robinson, Mrs. E. A. Faust, Mrs. Minnie Johnson, Mrs. Edward Gallup and Mrs. C. D. Wolf.

The whole affair was under the immediate direction of Mrs. Walter A. Richardson, the president of the Ladies' society of the church.

The waitresses were Miss Isabel Marshall, Miss Ruth Ballou, Mrs. Herbert Jeffers, Miss Ethel Parkhurst, Mrs. John T. Stewart, Mrs. Anna G. Edwards, Mrs. Edward Gallup, Miss Irene Stewart.

A still alarm called out the fire company for a chimney blaze on Slater avenue at 6:45 Thursday evening.

One of the best old fashioned country parties that are getting all too few nowadays, was the call for friends, neighbors and relatives to assemble last Tuesday evening at the home of W. C. Terry in the south part of the town.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry had been married sixteen years on that date. Sixteen years ago Mr. Terry married Miss Emma Palmer on his birthday, so the final celebration made the occasion all the merrier. There were no excuses offered to the invitation, as was evidenced by the large company that assembled to join in the festivities. The guests numbered 74 and they came from all corners of the neighborhood, as well as from Norwich, Canterbury, Preston, Jewett City, Lisbon, Voluntown and Glasgow.

Everybody was in a joyful mood and the farm house fairly shook with the shouts of joy and merry laughter. The guests of all the ages were the guests of the whole company playing of old time games. Spin the player, around the chimney, drop the handkerchief, helped to make those that were older feel young again. And the guests surely never were happier. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Gilbert are home after a long hunting trip in the woods of Ontario. During their three week absence they have been the guests of Joseph La Borne of Cornwall, Ont. Mr. La Borne was formerly of Jewett City. The hunting party of which Mr. Gilbert was a member bagged during the long hunt 15 fine Canadian deer.

Mr. Gilbert was favored by hunter's fortune and one fine buck fell to his rifle. He might have secured another but refused to shoot when the deer was swimming across the lake and had no chance for escape.

Their camp was 200 miles west of Montreal. Fred is liable to pass out a few rods as long as his sharp hand. Francis Bugbee has been allowed to come home after an operation for appendicitis performed at the Backus hospital.

Mrs. James McQuinn gave a party Monday evening in honor of her daughter, Helen, on her 13th birthday. The guests included Annie Eichelberg.

NO OLD WOMEN NOWADAYS
Modern dress, hair dressers, facial experts and cosmetics all combine to keep women of all ages young and attractive in appearance. Not until the telltale wrinkles become so deep, the figure stoops, or some other sign of weakness develops to drag a woman down does she really look old.

Every woman owes it to herself and her family to keep herself young in appearance, and happy. When headaches, backache or "the blues" develop or when a woman reaches the trying age from 45 to 50, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be depended upon to keep her in health as it has so many other women whose letters we are continually publishing in this paper.
